Senators Seem Fearful That Their Panama Canal Resolution May

MAKE FRANCE FIGHTING MAD.

They Therefore Hold a Secret Session and Declare That They Meant

NOTHING EXCEPT WHAT THEY SAID.

The protests of the French newspapers on the action of the Senate in the Panama Canal matter bore fruit yesterday in a resolution stating, as did the former, that any foreign interference in the manner of canal building across Central America would be considered an impertinence quite unwarrantable. A secret session was considered necessary to discuss the matter, and, as usual, just what was done in secret was at once made public when the doors were re-

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, January 7 .- The Senate seems to have concluded that the Panama canal resolution was loaded. On Saturday it was discussed in open session, and not one of the on-lookers would have supposed anything could turn up touching the question that would make it necessary to been unexpected to most of those who are interested in the question. Only a small audience was present then in the galleries and the diplomatic gallary was vacant. This afternoon there was a large audience in the general galleries and the diplomatic pen was crowded, mostly with members of the South and Central American legations. Great was the disappointment, therefore, when Senator Gray, of Delaware, rose to speak on the question, to hear him interrupted by Senator Edmunds with a motion that the resolution be discussed in secret legislative session. Exclamations of surprise were heard on every side, and an exession of disgust was on every counte-

Everybody wished for the presence of Senator Riddleberger, who would certainly have raised a row at this resumption of the undemocratic and unpopular star chamber session. The audience filed out, and the diplomats, many of whom did not understand the motion, were almost hustled out of their gallery by the doorkeeper.

The explanation vouchsafed to the correspondent of THE DISPATCH by a Senator this evening in regard to the extraordinary proceeding was that it was thought best that foreign countries should not have the benefit of the language employed by Senntors in discussing the subject. In the speeches of Saturday very fervent words were necessary at times to express the feelings of Senators, and France was stirred up exceedingly in consequence. They did not want to provoke France to war. Across water the words of an American are sometimes mistakenly taken to be a reflection on the attitude of the Government and the comments of the French newspapers were very bitter in regard to the sentiments uttered Saturday by those who were antagonistic to the French Government's assuming the discharged workmen. any oversight of the canal or formally fur-thering its construction in any way. The public were interested only in the result of the discussion and not in the language

THE RESOLUTION ADOPTED. Senators are, of course, reticent about the tone of the discussion, but the long secret session resulted in the adoption of the following resolution, by a vote of 49 to 3:

Besolved, By the Senate and House of Repesentatives of the United States of America, in longress assembled, that the Government of he United States will look with serious con-welfare.

will not discuss the resolution with closed doors, and if France was angered by the mild criticism of the Senators, the manner in which America-for-Americans ranters will prod will certainly set the French newspapers and Government wild with

This discussion also resulted in the postponement on Monday by Mr. Allison, for one day longer, of the vote on the tariff bill. That measure will be disposed of on the 22d instead of the 21st, if nothing further happens to give it another backset.

A telegram was received at the Navy de-

AN EXTRA SESSION CERTAIN. Dakota's Attitude Adding Each Day to the Likelihood of One.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, January 7 .- The belief in the certainty of an extra session of Congress was given strength to-day by a remark which was dropped by Judge Moody, one of the Senators-elect of Dakota, who arrived in the city this morning, direct from a visit to General Harrison. The Judge expressed a conviction that there would be an extra session. On the question of the admission of Dakota, the Judge said: "The leaders of the Democrats in the House are too far apart on this subject; they cannot agree. If nev could come to an understanding as to Dakota's fitness for Statchood there would be a renewal of the old trouble on the ques-tion of division. Of course it is possible that this Congress may do something for us, but it seems to me rather improbable just

Last winter was spent in Florida with the hope of help-ing the wife's health, and repeated visits have been made to physicians in nearly every part of the country to secure relief for her. Last Saturday they returned from one of these trips, and Mrs. Nyer had been con-fined to her bed since that time. Every circumstance points to a mutual understanding between the two that death could only end their trouble and her suffering. The doctor went to his office this morning and spent a few hours. He then returned to his residence, went to his bedroom, where his wife still lay in bed, locked the door and shot her in the head. He then took a position before a mirror, and killed himself with the same weapon. A letter was found in the doctor's pocket, addressed to a friend, shut out the public. The discus-sion of Saturday appears to have to end their existence, and that his wife was perfectly willing to die. Both of the victims were attendants of the English Lutheran Church, and Mrs. Nyer was prominent in church work. They have resided here for about 16 years and had nu-

The Last Testament of Wm. Carr Designates Relatives Only

HAZLETON, January 7.—Dr. J. H. Nyer, the oldest dentist of the town, shot and TO POSSESS HIS VAST ESTATE, Goes to His Widow.

The relatives of the late William Carr, banker and extensive real estate owner, may regarded as exceedingly fortunate regarding the method that gentleman chose in devising his vast estate. They will, according to the terms of his will filed yesterday for probate, get it all. The value of it is not less than $1,250,000, and it is believed that these figures are based on the most modest and conservative sort of estimate. The will is in no sense a peculiar one, and is interesting to the general public only because of the extent of the estate it bequeaths. It is dated October 6, 1887, and witnessed by James C. Doty and James R. Sterrett. John B. Jackson and John M. Kennedy are appointed executors, and, in case of the death of either, the survivor is to appoint another to act in his stead.

After directing the payment of his funeral expenses, Mr. Carr makes the first bequest to his wife, Delia R. Carr, giving her all the personal property, including house-hold goods, jewelry, horses, carriages, etc., in or about the premises on which she resides, on Penn and Fifth avenues, Twentieth ward. He also gives his wife $150,000 in money and the use and right of occupying the property on which she resides during her life, provided she shall occupy the same as her place of residence.

OTHER BEQUESTS, BIG AND LITTLE. To his sister, Mrs. Christian Martin, of Kellyleagh, Ireland, he bequeaths $100,000. To Eliza Carr, widow of his deceased brother, John Carr, of Killyleagh, Ireland, he also gives $100,000. To Thomas J. Kerr, in his employ on the date of the will $10,000 is

To Harry R. Hilliard, son of his wife by her former marriage, $20,000 is bequeathed upon condition that the wife shall accept the risions of the will and elect to take thereunder and not to elect to take her share under the intestate laws of this Commonwealth. All the remainder of the estate, real, person or mixed, is given the executors in trust, as fol-

After the death of his wife the trust is to

To his nephew, William C. Carr, and his niece, Caroline S. Carr, the property at the juncture of Penn and Fifth avenues, containing 16 acres. At their deaths it goes to their children, and in case either dies without leaving children, it is to go to the children of the survivor.

The executors are also to pay to his nieces and nephews, the children of his sister, Mrs. Christian Martin, as follows: To Martha Stewart Martin, 215,000: to Caroline Carr Martin, $15,000: to Lizzie Carr Martin, $10,000: to Mrs. Margaret Barry, $10,000: to Mis. If the testator has made any advancements to any of the said nieces or nephews during his life, it is to be deducted from their bequests. It is also provided that the executors shall pay over to his brother, Joseph Carr, the three-fourths of the net income derived from the remainder of the residuary estate, and one-fourth to his niece, Johnena Carr, during the life of his brother Joseph Carr, the three-fourths of the net income derived from the remainder of the residuary estate, and one-fourth to his niece, Caroline S. JUDGE WHITE ON DIVORCE.

He Says Methods Too Loose and Slipshod Are Quite Prevalent.

Judge White yesterday refused to grant a divorce in the case of Helena O'Leary against Jerome O'Leary, In his opinion, Judge White stated that the allegations of the petitioner were of indignities to her person such as rendered her life unbearable, and cruel and barbarous treatment as to endanger her life, two different causes for divorce. He stated that the testimony was rambling and unsatisfactory. No dates were given for a number of the offenses and when dates were furnished they were generally of acts committed ten years ago. Continuing, Judge White says:

"It is high time this loose and slipshod way of getting up petitions and testimony in divorce proceedings should be checked." Are Quite Prevalent.

The True Champions of Liberality

KAUFMANNS

Give Dollars Where Others Give Cents.

To compare KAUFMANNS' with other clothiers, when liberality is the subject, would be like placing a tallow candle along side of the brilliant electric light. Comparison is simply out of the question. Indeed, if liberality is a virtue, then KAUF-MANNS' are possessed of this virtue to the highest degree. To say that for every cent given away by others, KAUFMANNS' give a dollar, would be a fair estimate. This is true, and don't you be misled by noisy actions of certain clothiers. They may shout a hundred times louder than KAUFMANNS', but the latter will give you a hundred times more than the shouters. Take KAUFMANNS' present

ONE-THIRD-OFF SALE

For instance. This matchless sale, as its name implies, means nothing more or less than the presentation to each customer of 33 1-3 per cent of the amount of his purchase. Who can cite a parallel to this striking liberality? Who can name another house that actually gives away one-third of its sales? Who can point out another concern that has ever had the pluck and nerve to go through its stock and mark down every garment a full 33 1-3 per cent?

KAUFMANNS' DID IT And Kaufmanns' Only!

And, remember, you needn't first consult the stars to find out which is your lucky day. There is no doubt or uncertainty about your being the "lucky one" when you buy from us. Come at any time to-day you please and you are sure to get
